- You switched from in class to online the most effectively out of the professors that I had during this semester. Other than driving to the school, and having an easier way to communicate in teams, the class was the same online as in person. I do not think it is intentional, but sometimes it can feel like you are speaking down to the students and it can jade their opinion about the course.
- Wish the PowerPoints would be posted before class as it makes it easier to follow along especially online. The majority of readings for the PPAs we're hard to get through and hard to understand. Going over the PPAs during class definitely helped in understanding what I was suppose to be getting out of the PPAs better. Liked that we got to do the individual simulation before going to group play to understand how to operate the simulation. Liked that Dr. Castille left comments on assignments and stuff through google docs and being able to respond to clarify my reasoning behind my answers. Also having 15 minutes for individual and team quizzes definitely helped compared to 10 minutes. I also liked having 2 weeks to complete exams as it allowed me to take it when I felt fully prepared and had time instead of rushing to finish it. Liked being able to contact Dr. Castille with any questions and him being understanding if we needed more time for an assignment. He's always quick to answer and open to if changes are needed in due dates or more clarification. Wish that due dates were more spread out that not everything was due on the same day with sometimes 3 or more assignments due sometimes on a single day. Like have the exam due on Friday night that week it's scheduled to be due. Did find that some assignments were unnecessarily hard or in-depth that did not need to be. Overall, a class with lots of information especially if you're interested in management and HR; however, HR is not something that interests me. I did like getting a taste of it and think it'll help to fully round me out as an MBA student to see different areas of a business.
- Your class is very helpful in understanding the intricacies of common HR functions. I often found myself struggling to keep focus and keep up with your pace. There was times I felt that the topics explored in the class were too specific. Overall, the class introduced a new perspective and increased my appreciation for the HR role of a company.
